Navigating Opportunity Amid Easing and Uncertainty

As we enter the final quarter of 2025, investors face a dynamic landscape shaped by softening inflation, anticipated central bank rate cuts, and evolving geopolitical tensions. In this webinar, we'll explore how these factors are influencing asset class preferences—from quality bonds and gold to transformational innovation themes like AI, power and resources. Our experts will discuss the base-case outlook of a soft landing, highlight opportunities in equities and fixed income, and share strategies for navigating political uncertainty.
