Sonia Attkiss

Financial Advisor
Managing Director—
Wealth Management
212-821-7039
sonia.attkiss@ubs.com

Commitment. Engagement. Dedication.

As a UBS Financial Advisor, Sonia is inspired to go above and beyond for clients every day. She joined UBS Private Wealth Management in 2015 after spending 17 years at Credit Suisse.

“I love what I do. My work, my industry and my clients all contribute to a feeling of exhilaration for a career of service that has promise and momentum.”

– Sonia Attkiss

While her focus within her practice is customized investment management for entrepreneurs and multigenerational families, Sonia also advises a select group of women about the financial challenges they face. As a passionate supporter of their financial well-being, she aspires to help them view their wealth as opportunity, not just security. It's a busy and demanding career, but she strives to lead by example and demonstrate the values she holds true: commitment, engagement of mind and dedication.

Scott Rosenberg

Financial Advisor
Managing Director—
Wealth Management
212-821-7037
scott.rosenberg@ubs.com

Forward thinker driven to help deliver the best for clients

Scott is always looking for new ideas and more innovative strategies to help clients achieve their goals, that can include structured note offerings and hedge fund custodial arrangements, when appropriate. Scott joined UBS in 2015 after spending 17 years at Credit Suisse. He focuses on financial planning, tactical investment management and client portfolio analysis for individuals and family offices.

“Our team embraces new thinking, creative ideas and innovation. I’m always striving to push through potential obstacles to open doors to solutions that can better serve our clients.”

– Scott Rosenberg

Although his recommendations often reflect creativity and an “out of the box” point of view, Scott invests for his clients with the same care as he would for his own family—with prudence and a long-term perspective.

Past Experience

- Managing Director, Private Banking, Credit Suisse

Education and Designations

- M.B.A., the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania

Disclaimer

Investment risks: Please be reminded that all investments carry, depending on their nature, a degree of risk. Some investments may be subject to sudden and large falls in value and on realization you may receive back less than you invested. Some investments may not be readily disposable since the market in such securities is illiquid and therefore identifying and quantifying the risk to which you are exposed may be difficult. You should consult your UBS client advisor on the nature of any specific investment you are interested in and carefully consider whether such investment is appropriate for you before making any decision on an investment or transaction. For further information on the risks of specific types of investments and transactions we refer to the brochure "Special Risks in Securities Trading" and the document "Additional Risk Information" previously sent to you. Please ask your UBS client advisor for further copies of these documents if you deem necessary. The information contained in this presentation on specific investment opportunities or on investment strategies and asset classes in general is in abbreviated form. It is not intended to provide the sole basis of an evaluation of an investment and should not be considered a recommendation by UBS that an investment is suitable for you. UBS shall have no responsibility for the performance of investment instruments or an asset class selected by you and shall assume no liability for the selection and decision you may take.

Risks of investing in funds: Investments in Funds bear specific risk which can be substantial. The market exposure inherent in units of a Fund is closely related to the underlying instruments the Fund is invested in. Investments in funds may be subject to sudden and large falls in value and on realisation or (in case of default of the fund) on the winding-up of the Fund the investor may receive back less than invested, lose the total amount invested or may be required to pay more. Some investments may not be readily realisable since the market in the securities is illiquid or because of minimum holding periods and therefore valuing the investment and identifying the risk to which the investor is exposed may be difficult to quantify. It may thus be difficult for an investor either to sell, transfer or realize the investment or to obtain reliable information about its value or the extent of the risks to which it is exposed. Should substantial redemptions being made at the same point of time, this could negatively impact the investor's redemption rights (illiquidity/exit risk).

The above is not an exhaustive list of risks of investing in a fund. You should take any investment decision only upon the basis of a fund's current and complete legal documentation. We further advise to obtain independent legal advice when considering an investment.

Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards Center for Financial Planning, Inc. owns and licenses the certification marks CFP®, Certified Financial Planner®, and CFP® (with plaque design) in the United States to Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc., which authorizes individuals who successfully complete the organization's initial and ongoing certification requirements to use the certification marks.
